

As a builder, architect, or contractor, you juggle countless variables on every project. From managing budgets and timelines to sourcing high-quality materials, your success depends on having reliable partners who can deliver. When it comes to architectural doors, this means finding a supplier that offers not just one, but a complete range of solutions. You need speed, style, and safety, all from a source you can trust.

Finding a single supplier that excels in all three areas can feel like a challenge. Too often, you are forced to choose between a quick turnaround and a premium finish, or between certified safety and design flexibility. This is where Fortress Door changes the game. We've built our services around providing a comprehensive, hassle-free solution for all your architectural door needs.

This post will show you how Fortress Door brings together the best of speed, style, and safety. We'll explore our efficient Quick Ship Program, our cutting-edge UV finishes, and our certified fire-rated doors, demonstrating why we are the ultimate partner for your projects.

Got Speed? Premium Doors, Delivered Fast

In the construction world, time is money. Delays in material delivery can cause a cascade of problems, leading to budget overruns and unhappy clients. Traditional lead times for factory-finished doors can be a major source of these delays. We recognized this industry-wide pain point and created a solution: the Fortress Door Quick Ship Program.

Our program is designed to get high-quality, prefinished doors into your hands right when you need them. Here's how it keeps your projects on schedule:

- Fast Delivery: Thanks to efficiencies like our UV Finishing Line, we can offer many of our most popular finished doors with a two-to-three-week shipping timeline. This dependable speed allows you to plan your project with greater certainty.
- Premium Quality, Faster: Every door in our Quick Ship Program features the same flawless, durable factory finish as our custom orders. They arrive ready for immediate installation, saving you time and labor costs on-site.
- A Hassle-Free Solution: We offer a curated selection of our most popular styles, making it easy to find a high-quality door that fits your project's needs without a lengthy procurement process.

Don't let long lead times derail your project. Our Quick Ship Program provides the speed and reliability you need to succeed.

Got Style? Unmatched Finishes and Limitless Variety

The doors you choose are a critical part of a building's aesthetic. They contribute to the first impression and the overall design story. That's why a flawless, durable finish is non-negotiable. Our state-of-the-art UV Finishing Line was created to provide a superior finish that combines stunning looks with exceptional toughness.

A UV finish is cured instantly with ultraviolet light, creating a cross-linked polymer surface that is far more durable than traditional air-dried finishes. This process offers:

- Major Toughness: The finish provides outstanding resistance to scratches, scuffs, and impacts, ensuring doors maintain their pristine appearance even in high-traffic commercial environments.
- Smart Protection: The non-porous surface resists chemicals and cleaning agents, making maintenance simple and preserving the door's beauty for years.
- Flawless Appearance: The controlled application and curing process results in a perfectly smooth, consistent finish, whether you desire a high-gloss sheen or a subtle satin look.

Style isn't just about the finish; it's about choice. We offer limitless variety so you can bring your unique vision to life. Choose from our 10 popular veneer species—red oak, white oak, maple, walnut, cherry, African mahogany, birch, white ash, and rift-cut Red oak, Hard board—along with over 50 in-stock slab sizes. Better yet, we provide custom stain matching at no additional cost, giving you access to over 1,000 colors to perfectly suit your project's palette.

Got Safety? Certified Protection You Can Trust

In many commercial and multi-family projects, safety isn't just a feature—it's a requirement. Building codes mandate the use of fire-rated doors in specific locations to ensure occupant safety and minimize property damage in the event of a fire. These doors are a critical component of a building's passive fire protection system, designed to compartmentalize a fire and protect vital escape routes.

At Fortress Door, we take this responsibility seriously. Our fire-rated doors are engineered and tested to meet stringent industry standards, providing certified protection you can rely on. But we've taken it a step further. We understand that modern design often calls for more light and visibility than a solid door can offer.

That's why we are proud to offer our premium fire-rated doors with integrated National Guard lite kits. This powerful combination allows you to:

- Enhance Visibility and Safety: The fire-rated glazing allows light to flow into windowless corridors and lets occupants see potential hazards on the other side of the door.
- Maintain Compliance: The entire door assembly, including the light kit, is tested and certified to uphold its fire rating (from 20 to 90 minutes), ensuring your project meets all necessary codes.
- Improve Aesthetics: Vision lites break up the solid expanse of a door, contributing to a more open and modern architectural feel without sacrificing safety.

With Fortress Door, you don't have to choose between a safe, compliant building and a bright, aesthetically pleasing one. You can have both.
